PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To Our Seniors:
You young people, who are now graduating from high school, can do one or two things in regard to the great social and political upheaval now taking place. You can be ostrich-like and not look at realities; go your way and disregard your own obligations to our democracy; get as much for yourselves as you can; climb by stepping on others.

Or, you can study carefully the meaning of American citizenship, its rights and privileges, and its obligations; you can determine with a finality and a firmness that come what may you will serve, through your job, through your talk with others, through your active life wherever you are, the high aims of that citizenship.

I have great faith that you are to take the second position and that your studenthood here at North Central has helped you to live up to that ideal.

Most sincerely yours,
F. G. KENNEDY.

April 24, 1941.

CLASS WILL

WE, THE schior class, having undergone a thorough examination and being found sound of mind and body do herely in all sincerity and carnestness under oath bequeath our treasures and fortunes that we have accumulated during the past four years to our suceessors in the hopes that they will derive from them the same pleasures and profit we lave; to-wit:

With a deep bow to the artistie eoaching of Mrs. Leonard, Jack Guthrie wishen to bequeath to North Central his perfect portrayal of poor white trash in "'Tobaeco Alley.," Virginialee Ball credited by all and sundry as a "model" girl leaves Gayle Nelson the honor of carrying the toreh for that title.

Hear ye! Hear ye! Rolly Pacello publiely announces that his poor-broken-infootball nose is willingly presented to the next football playing Contos, who happens to be Gus.

To any lad desiring a girl friend, Warren Brusseau will give his success formula entitled "How to Win Girls and Influence Mothers."

We reluetantly part with Betty Boyer's quiet way and will it to all those silent freshmen.

We are happy to present to that redhaired Joanne Thompson, the golden voice of Betty Kimble.

After due consideration Ethel Kruger bequeaths her naivete to the sweet lil' frosh, Doris Nelson.

To all gals "Unlucky" in love is left Lois Schwab's ahility to receive longdistance calls.

Bequeathed to the next inspired artist by Don Leonard. Casanova of the Senior Dram' class. is his dashing ability and "pull" with the teach'.

Tor the underside of the anditorium scats gocs Ted "Wrigley" Hall's ability to gum up the works.

June Cochran's art of piloting the "little cousins" through North Central's treacherous halls is left to next semester's "big cousins."

Frank Allen Davis bestows his position of lientenant on the traffie squad to anyone who can "fill his shoes.'

Mary Blake bequeaths the eliek of the commereial deparment's typewriters to her memories of haphey days spent typing on those keys.

A transfer from West Valley Jeanette Earlson leaves all the other transferslonely.

Catherine Larlee imparts her talented dancing in the May Pageant to the next May queen.

To the person with enough courage to eat them, Gladys Bervar leaves the wonderful meals which she cooked in the Home Economics department.

Betty (iruber takes time out to auction off her math book.

That little chair in the eorner of the main offiee is promised some glue to keep office messengers. like Freda Kennedy; from rumning away.

With "Adios, senores $y$ senoritas" Elizabeth Lake says goodby to her fellow mates in the Lai Tertulia elub. She's giving her fluent Spanish pronunciation to the next person who gets stuek-with gum.

Bob Chilberg wills his big bass horn to the next lad who dares to nse it. (Estler. hear him blow it?)

Yeal Coney has decided to leave a smanl portion of his ability in "dear" hunting to any frosh who thinks it would come in handy.

After much debating bill Hartman passes on his study periods to those studes who never realize there are such things.

Don Courtright believes that no one else but Claude Williams could fill his shoes; thus to him goes his checr leading nbility along with other abilities.

Bill Lake regretfully bestows his wolfing duties to Doug Koeforl who already has a marvelous start.

The rumor that she really is going to Towneer is left by Betty Monroc and hopes that her sinters will make י1p for Hee loss of her.

'In the dimmay of all teachers Bill Knaack wills his pesty way and hin ehewing gum to the whole of the fresthman clats.

After many instancen in which we have felt very ignorant. We are happy to say Maxine Manrer has decided to leave luer sense of humor (which no one mimderstands) to sister Jean.

I'rank Haiglit willingly bestows his wee small homrs in the morning to latty Sullivan in lopes they'll spend theon together.

Larre Algair gladly laven to join Ioin and make plans- (Betehas we can gness what!

Dolore Haroldson, we are glad to saty. bequeaths her ability to get and keep a college man to any girl needing it. (One at a time, pli\%.)

Katherine lllias wills her size 12 figure to any gal wishing to make a fourth in a compe.

We are happy to hear that Bommic McFarland wishes to present lier taet to Lois Beller.

Nadine Moran bestows only to her loest girl fran's her power over Bob Loren\%i. Barbara Taylor and Maxine Oakland leave paychology class with a better moderstanding of why our little Nell went to the eity.
'The ability of Arehie Rntherford on the piano is bestowed to any young man who is interested.

Diek Starr regretfully leaves lhi \%eta with a vacaney which can never be aptly filled.

Reluctantly, Hazel Storey leaven Don Swett with sincere hopes that he'll behave.

To Eddie Kolbet is bequeathed Larl Hook's ability to "take it." (Gincos what?)

Evelyn lidder is the prond receiver of Joanne Nelson's reputation for being the ideal representative of 'Iredecim.

Margaret Charlo leaves a lasting impression of a girl with that beautiful bheblack hair.

Phyllis Cline bequeaths her opinion that Irs. Cowley is such a nice girl. in spite of her job, to all new-comers to her study hall.

Gale Morgan is the lneky receiver of Diek Walter's Wenatehce experience. On second thonght, Dick throws in that flashy bow tie too.

Betty Bittner's "I'm innoecnt" line, goes to someone who fits it better.

In departing from s. C. halls. Joe Brasch leaves a good raçuct to all you underelassmen who plan to go a courtin'.

Delight ('ase bequeatha her "little girl look'" to some Frosh.

To all you struggling Math students. Rose Cannata generombly will, her mathcmatical ability.

Mr. Chamdler is left with one less couple of $8: 15$ hall strollers, with the departure of Lonise Carter and Ray Yomigman.

Boh Bergdahl reluctantly wills his skiis to Tom Hedman but he aboblutely refuses to part with his redhead.

Walt (ircene bequeaths his darkroom techuiture to all who are interested in development-photographically speaking of eourse.

Bill Bailor imparts to posterity one well (?) used base elarinet.

Stanley Engstrom. that "heek of an engineer" wills his survering instrmments to Mr. Nygaard who will be glad to get them baek again.

Aleck Conton leaves several CV. S. History teachers with a thrill of aceomplish-ment-at last.
'To the future track teams Bill loallis gives up his "speed."
'T'o Mrs. Leonard goes one headathe. Who will portray "imnocent youth of America" when Bill Armfield has forever left these lalls?
'Io all you fellows who plan never to (2) further than plane geometry. Stan Rhodes gladly wills his trignometry abilit $y$.

Carolyn Baxter leaves in her memory one fine job of editing our Tamarack. We appreciate it-Carolyn!

Bill Mayther wills his elass sleeping ability to the next lad whose "Mayther" wakes him too early in the morn'.

Gordon Gifford leaves his crushes to the next boy who ean't resint the girl sitting next to him.

CLASS HISTORY

THE SONG, EN-SEE-WATHA

Should you ask us whenee these stories? Whenee these legends and traditions Of the loyal high school student. Fn-see-watha, and his people? We should answer, we should tell you.

Twenty moons ago he cuteredYoung papoose, he was bewildered By the splendor of the Wigwam Where he came to take his learning And become a elampion warrior.

He had vowed to win distinetion. For this goal strove En-see-watlan. Thus, as tenderfoot he labored 'Til at last he was promoted.

When his second vear had started En-see-watha plamed his future. Planned his days and hours and minutes, So the season passed quite swiftly.

Now our brave's an upperelassman, Tonrned to fighting-was a warrior. Called the other tribes to battle. Wigwam boys took part in football.

To the whooping of the rooters. And their wild reverberations, "Injuns" planged into the battle, And eame forth with colors flying. Vietors on these grand oceasions.

One more year had lin-see-watha, 'l'wo more moons to learn his lescons. Soon his people chose their leadersFleet loot Olson was their ehieftain. New Star Zocllern, Peace Pipe Granl, Soft W'ind Patchen-all assisted.

Indian Maidens ehone their chiceftess, Red Swan Oatman was her title. Direeting work for all the Lecagne Red Swan fulfilled her dutien well.

Suddenly our En-secwatha's Wigwam days were ahmost over. His friends mel to choose their leaders. Chief Wahoo Wyder led the tribe. Again New Star served her people. Onee more Soft Wind wrote the legend. Big Bear Walker. Sharp) Eye (ramer Helped the welfare of their tribeamen. Soft Voice Guthrie same the legend-Fin-seewatha liked thene leaders. Then in feathers bright, and warpaint En-seewatha's uprerclasomen Gave an entertaining drama. All the wigwam tribe attended.

When time came to beave the Wigwam, Indian warriors and their madens Danced together at a pow-wow. D)aneed until the early hours 'I'o the rlyythm of the tomion At the Wigwam's tribal pow-wow.

Now our brave must made departure From the rugged walls of Wigwam, From the binding ties of friendahip. Ont onto the road of life,
'lo the road that rules his future'To richer hope and stronger foe.

ATHLETIC BOARD

F
OR the purpose of sponsoring athleties and roting awards to outstanding North Central athletes, the Athletic Board, composed of the principal, the viee principal, the athletic directors and the eoaches, captains and managers of the various interseholastic sports, was organized in 1917. It is the cluty of the board members to approve candidates reconmended by the coaches to receive letters or emblems.

Upon the termination of a major sports season, the board meets in the principal's office to decide upon athletic awards. Coaches' recommendations are based upon the rule that a candidate must play a ecrain number of times in games during the season to earn an athletie letter.

It is the privilege of the board to cleet honorary members selected from the outstanding athletes of the student body or from among leading men in the city.
'The board members design the emblems, regulate the system of award and, when it is neeessary, advocate changes in the design of the emblems or the methods of awarding them. Members are entitled to wear honorary pins with the North Central emblem engraved on them.

There are two Athletic board officers, the president and the secretary. MariIrnn Pradella is president this semester. and Vernon Anderson is seeretary.

"GIRLS OF A FEATHER"

"GIRLS of a Feather," the June 'tl pageant, had all the usinal Injun color and pep characteristic of the N. C. warriors. The only frec show of the year. it elearly prowed itself worlh "heap much wampum."

When a girl enters North ('entral, she has a lot of fun abead of her; when she le:aes, her memories of high seloond are of erowded happy days. 'Therefore the girls P. I:. department built their pagcant aronmd the life of ang high sehool girl.

The opening procession was led by Donna DeSpain, spring sports princess. with her Indian maiden. Marilynn Pradella. Following were the attendants. livir Nicholnon, Pegg! Henkle. June Houston and Ethel Kruger. and the court of $\underline{2} \mathrm{~g}$ girls.

Proceeding down the fich to a stately procensional march, the attendants es corted Donne to ber throne on at star-like platform with latticed arches. Forming a lovely frame around the princess were the giris of the court.
'lluen eante the bicyole girls in a bicycle drill. Hanging from their handleb)ars were their lanches. blown-up paper bags.

The Color (iirl gromp includes the yomuger half of North ('contral's high school girla. 'lhey are the "Johnmes on the Spot" for any occasion, ublering. doing leaguc work and rooting at the grames. But nsefnl is not the only word for them. 'Ihes are talented performers. and in the pageant they showed their colors in a marching drill with neatly executed formations.

Something original along the line of a three-ring cirens were the Rollicking Rompers. I rom all sides of the play fiche came groups of girls representing every spring sport: Vollerball. basketball. tennis and golf. 'I'hen there were the Stunt Sisters. Some showed how their sport should be played. Some merely turned comedian and amiably furnished the laughs. But all of them made those in the stands wibh they could watch everyone at once.

When the playfield was cleared, all eyen turned to the southerast corner of the field. where a circle of Indian maidens danced around their teepee to the tune of "IRed Wing." There were the Red leeathers. Instead of the usual warriot dances of the tom-tom originated for between-halres of the foothall games. the girla did a dance more fitting for at sumb day under blate skies. But though the step; were lighter, the classic lines of red fringe on the white pants and tumic and the vertical feathem of the head bands were still accentnated by the definite lndian motions. Fivery girl was a part of the group, making a perfect picture of Indian rhythm.

A pageant most be showy, and what is more brilliant than a band-especially North Central's band under the direction of L. C. Bradford. A flash of their red and white uniforms. the sound of their smapp! vadence, and any andience is thrilled. W'ithont the shime and style of the band. the pareant could never have been complete.
'Then as a special salute to Princess Donma, Jack Lyman stepped forward from the ranks amd played on his solo trampet. "Let Me ('all You Sweetheart."

Next cance the searf dance, one of beanty and eolor. 'The grirls ased large sheer scarfs of all the rainbow lomes, and danced to the tune of the "Sleepping Beatuty Walt\%." During the dance. Beverly Smith in a lovely costume. presented the princess with the traditional Indian bracelet. The N. C' twins were the bracelet bearers.

It the close, all the performers from all sides of the field came forward in one grand fan-like formation to the princess platform singing. " Mlarching Along 'logether." For the finale they faced the school buidding, while everyone in the stands joined them in the sehool song. "Red and Black."

WWITH but thrce lettcrnen returning from last year's squad, of which only two were able to play regularly, golf prospeets were not the brightest as North Central began the 1941 golf season.

More than a scorc of boys answered to Coach Walter C. Hawes' first call for tryouts early in the scason. From this group, eight were cliosen to represent North Central in matches with the threc other high schools. Ranking of the players was determined by Coach Hawes after each boy shot several rounds and turned in his score cards.

The high schools, as in past ycars, were organized into a round robin tournament, cath tean playing the others twiee during the season. All of North Central's first round matches were played on the Indian Canyon course; the second round, at Downriver.

This rear's squad is composed of the followine: Bruce Walker, Bud McIntire, Ceeil Hunter. Bill Hartman, Alenn Ballan.tyne, Dick Walter, Dale ronsdahl. and Bill Lake. Of this group, only Glenn Ballantyne will return next year.

Sterling Davis, Draft Dodger first sacker, led the batters in distance hitting. George Langill's six-hit pitching triumph went on record as being outstanding in that deparament.

An all-star team was picked by Mr. Bartonia, in conference with the two captains. Games were seheduled with independent teams throughout the city.

HORSESHOE-HANDBALL

Under the management of Bob Rice and Student Teacher Frank Bratonia, in extensive domble-elimination horseshoc and handball tournament was started this spring. Due to bad weather and difficulty in arranging matches, however, it advanced rather slowly.

Both North Central's coneretc hand ball courts were available to the players as well as a horseshoe pit which had rccently been constructed in the playfield. Two out of three games were played, each lasting to 21 points. When this story was written, odds were given to |rl Cosby who had reached the semi-finals, without a loss, in both horseshoes and handball.

Boy's playing in the horseshoe tournament were : Art Cosly, Irl Cosby. Jack Scgesman, Fired Price, Harl Aldrich, Olin Hart, Lawrence Peterson and Fred Peterson.

PING.PONG

Threc regulation ping-pong tables and standard equipment, available every night during the winter season on the third floor, were used by thirty boys who organized two tournaments.

In the double elimination bouts. Everett Clarke placed first, defeating Jim Allen in the finals. Harl Aldrich finished third.

The round robin tournament divided the players into two divisions. Leading the "A" division was Everett Clarke, with Harl Aldrich runner-up. Bill Bell won the " 13 " division crown followed by Jim litcher.

COACHES

I coach's success is often measured by the number of championship teams hic produees. Just such suecessful coaches are Guy O. Barnes, track coach, and Ernest L.: Hix, temis coach, who have consistently turned out winning North Centrol teaims.

The enviable record of five city championships out of the six years he has eoached track belongs to Mr. Barnes, Spokane's outstanding high school traek coach.

Mr. Hix has just completed hie eighth year as coach of the tennis squad at Nortlı Central. He ran his string of consecutive city title holders to seven this year.

TENNIS

The hapless Gonzaga team met the same end as did the Rogers squad, the Indians this time taking every match. Results:

Joe Brasch won over Gentry 6-2, 6-1; MeCannon defeated Egan 6-0, 6-1; Phillips won over O'Brien 6-2, 6-2; MeInturff beat Oriard 6-0, 6-1; and Jack Brasch defeated Springer 6-0, 6-1. In doubles Phillips-Pitcher won over Collins-Shinn 6-1, 6-1, and Erick-son-Schorzman beat Gentry-Gottseholk 6-0. 6-0.

When this story was written, only Lewis and Clark remained a barrier in North Central's quest for the championship.

The poets always seek for wealth
In terms of stirring sights,
Of gorgeous sunsets, blooming Flowers, mystic northern lights,
Of babbling brooks and women's
Eyes that burn with dreams of love, Of gleaming sunbeams shining Through the grimmest clouds above.
For they, it seems, discover gold In mature's every flash, While I admit my lowly state Since what I want is cash.
